On Thursday, Feb. 16—Ten o'clock—The men who were taken to Howard Pitman, Dietrich, were saved from drowning by riding a raft to safety. The raft was made of two potato cells with others that departed Friday night. Five sons and 35 little pigs lost their lives that night in the cellar.

Pitman said the sons would not afford to leave their little ones in the cellar, but they had gotten out of the cellar if they had tried.

The winner pigs, from older litters, however, got on in the first deer that was in the pen and from all indications rode it as the water came up and floated to the cells. The deer was then floated out and made their escape.

Pitman said he had used the same place for the water weaners so they were used to the position, then seemingly had the good sense to stay on as the water came up.

U. S. Reveals Latest Debt Refund Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The treasury announced plans today for a $1.8-billion-dollar advance refunding on the national debt. The plan includes an offer of higher interest rates to thousands of savers who bought marketable government bonds during World War II out of patriotic motives.

The department said that holders of 100 million dollars of bonds will be given opportunity to collect higher interest by exchanging them for new bonds maturing between 1971 and 1993.

Of the old bonds eligible for the exchange, $1 billion dollars were sold during World War II. Although the average American normally does not buy marketable Treasury bonds, about 1.5 billion separate bonds—ranging down to $10 in face value—in this warlike category were issued to thousands of small savers who made their purchases as a contribution to the war effort.

The advance refunding, pioneered under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, was first arranged by the Kennedy administration. The idea behind the technique is to encourage investors to extend their loans to the government by exchanging old bonds for new ones offering more attractive deals.

Communism Discussed at T.F. Meeting

H. L. (Dolly) Dollinger, Salt Lake City, manager of the International Communist, United States Chamber of Commerce, was featured speaker during the Thursday noon luncheon meeting of Kiwanis club in the American Legion hall.

Dollinger discussed several issues, including social security, the economy, and communism. He pointed out that the "chamber is sponsoring an eight-session course in 1962, "The ABC's of Communism," which explains communism and what can be done about it.

It is essential to have a knowledge of the enemy to combat it effectively, Dollinger stated. The speaker included eight booklets, each to be used in an hour and one-half meeting. He explained that the course is a discussion and case-study method of instruction, is recommended for groups of 10 to 20 persons.

It was announced that the Kiwanis club ladies' night will be held at the club on Wednesday, March 14, and was reported that the Key club, a high school group sponsored by the Kiwanis club, will hold a fund raising dinner at 7:30 p.m. March 29 at the high school. Money from the dinner will be used to send delegates to the national Key club convention in Long Beach, Calif.

Dairy Supports Backed by Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Rep. Orville Frost, D. Idaho, says that present dairy price supports must be maintained to avert a serious blow to dairy farmers in Idaho, and elsewhere in the nation.

"Our dairy farmers must not have the rug yanked out from under them at this critical time," she said.

She said the "crisis in the dairy industry" began when the consumption of milk and milk products unexpectedly fell by three billion pounds during 1961 while production increased by 1.5 billion.

Mrs. Frost has urged the house agriculture committee to act as soon as possible on a resolution which would continue present dairy supports for another nine months.

Latest Death Of Cardinal Nets Rumors

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 16 (AP)—The death of Aloisius Cardinal Muench, the third cardinal to die within 10 days, heightened expectations today that Pope John XXIII will soon call a conclave to replace the College of Cardinals.

Valican sources said the Pope may raise the college's membership to a new all time high before Easter to bulwark it for the heavy work of the Roman-Gothic church's sacramental council opening here Oct. 11.

Cardinal Muench, 74, a Walschan-born former bishop of Fargo, N. D., and the only American cardinal in the Vatican Curia, died in Rome's Salvador Mundi hospital Thursday night.

Italian-born Gregorio Cardinal Coppedola, also a member of the Vatican Curia, and Portuguese-born Teodosio Clemente Cardinal Gouveia, Archbishop of Lourenco Marques, died last week. The three deaths reduced the number of cardinals to 77, eight below the high established by Pope John.

Valican sources said the expected conclave might be called to elect a new pope as early as the church. There also has been speculation that Pope John might increase the college's membership to 100.

The death of Cardinal Muench reduced the number of American cardinals to five: Richard James Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston; James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles; Albert Gregory Cardinal Meyer, archbishop of Chicago; Joseph Cardinal Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis; and Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

Louis Vernell, the plaintiff's attorney, reported Thursday that his extra cost was an hour and a half waiting time for a doctor—one of his witnesses—at $100 an hour.

Along Fences and Canals

Keith Jackson, north Shoshone, has purchased Rockrose King Patrick, a bull calf bred by Rockrose Premier and out of Rockrose Lion Lady, from Darwin W. Smith, Bozeman, Mont. The new animal is a purebred milking Shorthorn.

Mark Crowther, who lives east of Richfield, has had makeable stock-raiding operations. This week, a two-foot swift stream of water flooded his corral and barn and flowed around his house for 30 hours. During this time Crowther put his small calves on a truck bed. The only dry pasture he could find he used for larger calves. Milk cows had to shift for themselves and be milked in water in the barn. Crowther did his chores garbed in hip boots and had to hunt him from his mother's place several miles distant since he couldn't reach his own hay because of washed out roads.

Mrs. Lester Stubbs and son, Ronald, moved their 60 laying hens from their east Richfield ranch to the LeRoy Magoffin ranch into a dry penhouse. The chickens were stranded for two days with two feet of water in the chicken house.

Von Nebeker, who manages several farms in the Hansen area, reports that about all the farmers can do now is try to dig out of the mud. Because of the wet weather and the difficulty of keeping stock dry, many calves are having scours, which is having serious results. There is a need for straw, but it is becoming difficult to find. However, the hay market has not been helped in spite of the wet weather. Hay damage to stacks standing in water, especially on the north side, is reported by Nebeker.

Maurice Haynes, in the Rock Creek area, reports that because of wet weather, he has had trouble with scours in calves; however, he has lost just two. He also lost several during the extremely cold weather earlier.

Ray Butler, south of Hansen, reported a loss of seven to 10 calves he believes was caused by freezing and adverse weather conditions.

The Marvin Ulrich family, Hollister, is moving to the former Walk Schoodo place at Heyburn. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Pastor, who have been living in Twin Falls, will move to their place which Ulrichs have been renting.

Filer farmers report the pheasants are wintering well. A flock of more than 20 birds was seen this week feeding on the Clinton Dougherty farm.

A. W. Helmers with the assistance of the Blaine soil conservation district, has completed his basic farm plans for his 620-acre ranch on Gray creek, west of Hailley. He plans reseeded and a fencing program this coming summer. Last year he installed an overnight storage pond designed by the SCS to catch and hold Gray creek waters for irrigation.

Floyd Dorius, work unit conservationalist of the soil conservation service at Hailley, completed a monitoring course Wednesday in Richfield. He and William Wadley have taken this course, along with Hunter Nelson and Theron Larson, Twin Falls, who were forest service representatives. The officials are trained to take radioactive readings on farms.

R. P. Mallon of the Wood River Feed and Seed company, Belle-rum, plans to install either a pellet mill at his warehouse or a cubing machine for making pellets in the field as soon as weather permits. He will do custom work and expects to buy about 8,000 tons of alfalfa hay.

James Eakin, Circle K ranch near Gannett, is getting a "good start" in calving. He has 250 white faced Hereford heifers to calve and Thursday reported 90 calves with one pair of twins. Eakin says he's right about 12 hours sleep in the last four days because he has to stay right in the corral and take the newborn calves into a shed where there is a stove. The ranch is on high ground and Eakin is still having trouble with wet ground. He is building a new shed to protect the animals.

Stanley Hockrose, Hagerman, has installed a new milking unit to his original pipeline setup, enabling him to milk six cows at a time. He says he now milks his 43 head of Holsteins in one hour and five minutes.

Lambing of 2,300 head of ewes at the Glenn Briggs ranch east of Murrah, is about two-thirds completed. Mrs. Briggs reports that the heifers point the sheep in a good way. About 100 pairs of twins and 400 single lambs from 1,100 ewes. A high death rate of ewes also was noted, attributed to pregnancy disease.

Calving operations for the Briggs herd at Murrah are being carried out in the aspenbrush area of the Burley butte where bedding and feeding grounds are somewhat drier than at the other levels. Seventy-five whiteface calves have been born there to date.

Edwin Bruna, Milner, is spending the winter painting his farm machinery.

Dean Smith, Buhl, is keeping busy this winter milking some 22 cows on his ranch south of Buhl. Smith, who has a Jersey dairy cow, notes his top cow for the past year produced in 306 days 12,260 pounds of milk and 584 pounds of butterfat. He noted it takes approximately 150 tons of hay to feed his herd throughout the year. He raises part of the feed on his ranch but purchases the biggest share of it.

Stan Ramsey, Wendell, James Shaw and Glenn Gilt, Fairfield, have been in River Wall, where they were dismantling a lumber mill that was purchased by the local Wendell Mill and Lumber company. The mill is being shipped to Heyburn where it will be reconstructed and used to cut lumber from timber that has been purchased in that vicinity.

The routine of feeding some 1,100 head of cattle at the Dick Callen ranch at Kimberly has been broken this winter with two calves hobbling around with broken legs in case. The animals were found along with a few dead calves which had no mark on them. Examination revealed a broken neck on one calf, but no signs as to the fate of the others. The Callens are wondering if a marauding mountain lion wandered down from the foothills and attacked them. A few years ago animals with broken bones would have been considered hopeless and been shot, Callen noted.

Milk Leaders Are Opposed To Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Dissenters of the National Milk Producers Federation have voted to oppose the administration's 1962 farm bill as it is written, and instructed its staff to prepare a draft with provisions which it found not satisfactory covered in the administration version.

Among these provisions are limitations on dairy imports, no provision for exempting small producers and deficit areas, and precise guide lines for hardship cases under a supply management program. Producers should have a referendum choice, it was emphasized, between quotas and a specific price support instead of "prices or nothing" as in the administration bill.

The board reiterated support of legislation such as HR 6927, pending for marketing allotments in federal milk marketing orders on an individual market basis and subject to the approval of producers in the market.

Same Fees

SHOSHONE, Feb. 16.—Present fees for grading on national land reserves will be continued until July 1, 1962, reports Dale H. Kinnaman, district manager of the bureau of land management.

Nonfat Dry Milk Purchase Listed To Bolster Price

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—January price support purchases included more than 60 million pounds of nonfat dry milk, the U.S. department of agriculture announced.

Times-News Farm AND Ranch SECTION

TAKING TIME OUT during lambing operations, John Breckenridge looks over four ewes with twin lambs in pen. Breckenridge has about 2,000 ewes and about 800 have lambed. At the end of the lambing season, he will have 35 per cent more lambs than ewes. Breckenridge's flock started lambing about the first of the month and will end about the middle of March. (Staff photo—engraving)

Lambing in Full Swing at Breckenridge Ranch Here

Lambing season is in full swing at the John Breckenridge sheep ranch, north of Twin Falls. Only about 800 out of 2,000 ewes have lambed so far, Breckenridge said. At the end of the season there will be about 35 per cent more lambs than ewes. Breckenridge said his lambing season started the first of February and will end about the middle of March. After the ewes have lambed the ewes and their lambs are kept in a small pen for about 24 hours. Then they are put into larger pens with other ewes and lambs, Breckenridge said. 10 ewes with single lambs are put into a pen and four ewes with twins into another pen.

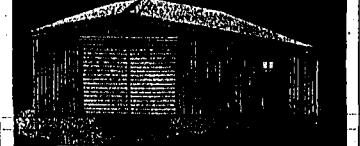

"Rain is the worst kind of weather for lambing, Breckenridge states, as it increases disease problems which occur when the lambs are born. He said snow is not too bad, because when snow falls on the ewes they shake the snow off, still keeping dry.

But rain, Breckenridge said, just soaks in and the ewes can't shake off the moisture. One black ewe had triplets, he said. This is not unusual but there are not many black ewes in a herd.

Annual Grass Seed Production Meet Planned Here on Tuesday Afternoon

The annual grass seed production meeting of the Twin Falls soil conservation district will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the city hall.

Anyone interested in grass seed is invited, says Lyle Schultzer, committee chairman. Harold Harris, plant materials technician at Aberdeen for the soil conservation service, will show slides and discuss new grass species available, future outlook for grass seed and grass seed production.

Terre Cover, of the Security Seed company in Twin Falls, will discuss marketing and importance of producing high quality seed.

Leslie Jones, custom harvester, will talk about methods of harvesting grass seed.

Clarence Hedrick, district supervisor for the soil conservation service, points out that a crop of grass seed can be raised on three waterings. The plantings will produce a crop of seed for three or four years, then usually is retained for use as pasture. There are more than 100 increased plantings for grass seed in the district each year.

Hedrick says grass seed crops valued at $175 to $225 per acre are not uncommon in the district. The most popular type of grass planted for seed in the district are intermediate, Siberian, hardneck, crested, Alnus tall wheat, Whitman wheat and common crested wheatgrass. Hedrick points out. All are adapted to dryland use.

Future Needs Are Cited for Milk Demand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—By 1975, dairy farmers will have to produce 40 per cent more milk to supply the demands on an estimated 230 million Americans.

To do this, the cattle population must continue to grow at least at the current rate of 85 head per 100 persons of population, the president-elect of the American Veterinary Medical association predicts.

All of this points to plenty of work for veterinarians, according to Dr. Dan J. Anderson. He pointed out that 2.7 billion dollars is lost annually in livestock production because of animal diseases. Mastitis costs the average dairyman with 40 cows, $500 to $1,000 a year, with total losses from this disease totaling 25 million dollars a year. Bloat costs farmers 50 million dollars a year.

To answer the demands of a rising livestock population, Dr. Anderson called for a doubling of licensed veterinarians by 1980. They currently number about 22,000 in North America. He asks for broadening of research into causes and controls of livestock diseases, greater recognition of the trend toward specialization among veterinarians, more utilization of preventive treatment of livestock and a comprehensive survey to examine current trends in education as related to veterinary medicine.

Loan and Storage Payments Extended for Area Farmers

Extended loans and storage payments to Twin Falls county farmers, who have 1961 price support loans on farm-stored corn, wheat, grain sorghum, oats, barley, and soybeans, are announced by Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee.

He explained the action was made possible under a broad re-eval program just announced by the department of agriculture. He added that the program is available in designated areas on the basis of determinations by ASCS state committees. Feasibility of sale storage of grain on farms for the re-eval period and whether it will be advantageous to producers and the government in making such loans were the determining factors.

A two-year re-eval program will be available for farm-stored 1961 crop wheat, and a one-year re-eval program for farm-stored 1961 crop barley and oats. Re-eval loans will also be extended for another year on 1960 crop of the Twin Falls county grain and wheat. Loans on 1960 crop wheat will run for another year under the two-year re-eval program initiated last year.

Farmers will also be able to convert purchase agreements on their 1961-crop farm stored grain to re-eval loans, Boyd said. Farmers who wish to participate in the program may apply at their ASCS county offices before the loan maturity date for the particular crop to be re-evaluated. Maturity dates for the three grains are wheat, March 31, and barley and oats, April 30.

U.S. Awaiting Reaction for Potato Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The potato industry is awaiting the reaction of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to recommendations of the national potato advisory committee of a three part program to help potato producers.

The committee, appointed by Freeman, has recommended establishment of acreage allotments and marketing quotas on potatoes, and a nationwide marketing agreement and order to regulate the shipment of potatoes in interstate commerce.

Legislation would be necessary to establish the proposed quotas. The committee did not recommend price supports for potato producers.

Under the proposed recommendations, farmers planting two acres or less would be exempt from acreage and quota. The proposed national marketing agreement and order would include provisions for quality and volume controls and provisions for marketing research and development projects.

"No. 18" is one of Newport dairyman Clarence Senn's 78 milk cows. Senn says that when "No. 18" is being milked she always puts her head through the bars and smooches him warmly on the nose. That is proof, Furthermore, says Senn, when "No. 18" runs out of food she'll kiss the first person who comes by her stall. Senn, a Clemson graduate, says "No. 18" is the most affectionate cow he's ever seen. Agree? (AP wirephoto)

Profitable Cattle Feeding Requires Technical Know-How, Expert Assents

JEROME, Feb. 16—Morris Hemstrom, extension livestock specialist, said, "Profitable cattle feeding is a narrow margin enterprise requiring technical know-how, deliberate management decisions and a constant investment," when he spoke to cattle raisers at the meat and beef school held Wednesday and Thursday at the Jerome livestock commission.

"Compared to past years, much of the risk and uncertainty, as well as the cost of feeding, is being reduced," he noted, pointing out that present day knowledge about feedstuffs—diseases—and digestive disturbances has lowered death losses. Research in the use of feed additives and high-energy rations has led to higher and more efficient gains.

The price of beef has stabilized to some extent because of the supermarket buying pattern. Year-around feeding operations have helped to stabilize the supply and demand for beef, stabilizing prices, the official stated.

Hemstrom continued that marketing information, market reports and improved transportation facilities have all been factors in lowering the risk of cattle feeding.

"There is now and will continue to be a profit in feeding cattle," he said. Idaho ranks about 15th in the nation in feed cattle numbers, Hemstrom said.

"I expect that within five years Idaho will be in the top state or seven in cattle feeding. This is because Idaho produces both raw products, cattle and feed. Idaho is in an enviable position as to markets and we have desirable climate, good drainage, and marginal land on which to locate feedlots. The final factor is the increasing availability of byproducts feeds that offer the possibility of cheaper gain."

Hemstrom pointed out that profits depend on six items, including the net price received for cattle. He recommended that the small feeders study the market before he starts cattle on feed, know what grade he is going to feed for, and know about when the cattle will reach that grade.

The other points Hemstrom mentioned were net price paid for cattle; cost of feed; gaining ability and feed efficiency of the cattle; death loss and sickness and miscellaneous costs.

Erle D. Wilson, extension agricultural engineer from the University of Idaho, discussed feedlot construction and mechanization.

"The ideal site for a feedlot is on a south slope with the feed bunks running from north to south. The sun can then do a good job of keeping the feed melted in front of the bunks and most of the lot dry."

Wilson said a dry spot for loafing is most necessary, but a warm dry spot such as can be provided with manure and adequate bedding is very desirable. A paved apron in front of the feeder or bunk is necessary. Wilson recommended that the apron be five feet wide, as this permits the animals to step both front and hind feet on the pavement when eating. However, one step back and their hind feet are off. With a drop of six to 12 inches at the back of the apron they will either stay at the bunk or get completely away, Wilson said.

A concrete apron is also necessary for the waterers, with a four-inch drop for three to four feet while drinking, the speaker declared.

Wilson continued that the feedlot pen fences should be five feet or higher. A good fence can be made with six inch posts eight feet apart set in the ground three feet or more with two by eight rails eight inches apart spiked to the inside. Poles can also be used satisfactorily. Every post or wood part in contact with the earth should be treated, Wilson advised.

Wilson also recommended that at least one livestock handling pen large enough to hold a full lot of cattle with pens for three divisions be constructed.

When discussing the feed distributing systems, Wilson said, "The method used and equipment used in feeding the feed to the animals may spell the difference between success or failure in a feeding venture." Self-feeders are a low labor method of feeding livestock and effective for small operations.

Other methods include conveyor or bunk, self-unloading boxes and feneline feed bunks, and bunk cars.

R. E. Christian, department of animal husbandry, University of Idaho, discussed sterility problems in beef cattle. He said, "The objective in nearly all breeding establishments—regardless of the species of animals involved—is the purpose for which animals are being raised. It is efficient production of offspring. Maximum reproductive efficiency is defined as a calf from every cow every year."

Christian discussed fertility in the bull and in the female, and conditions affecting the fertility. He said the first step in improving fertility in beef herds is to eliminate from the herd those females which are permanently sterile or have conditions for which there is no obvious cure.

The second step is the proper diagnosis of the individual cause of temporary sterility and the administration of the appropriate treatment.

"Many times it will be necessary to cull those animals that eventually might recover because of the added expense in keeping cows that do not produce," he said.

John P. Baker, animal husbandry department, University of Idaho, discussed feed additives, which include those ingredients which are added to livestock and poultry feeds to improve performance through alteration of metabolic rate, control of subclinical disease or through the enhanced utilization of dietary nutrients.

Baker said that 75 per cent of the feeder cattle now receive hormone-like materials.

Baker emphasized that all but one, a synthetic estrogen, stimulate production of lean tissue rather than fat. "It is important to feed cattle receiving synthetic hormones in the grade rather than to a given weight or for a given period of time," Baker said.

He also discussed antibiotics saying they have become accepted as a standard ingredient of swine and poultry rations. The use of antibiotics in cattle rations generally has been much less promising than in those for swine and poultry.

They do provide some protection against scours for early weaned calves and investigators generally agree that antibiotics may provide feeder calves with some protection against shipping fever when being moved or subject to other stresses, Baker said.

G. L. Mink, agricultural representative of the First Security bank, Boise, spoke at noon to a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the cattle raisers. He discussed trends in cattle feeding, problems caused by higher operating and feed costs, guides for financing and types of cattle feeding programs.

He also spoke on setting up the loan to meet requirements as to time needed, amounts and ability to pay. He discussed how loan officers decide when to approve a loan application and how farmers and cattle raisers establish good credit rating. He also discussed the general economic conditions and farm income outlook for 1962 and displayed charts showing the profits and losses of the last 10 years.

The Chamber of Commerce awarded prizes to those who won the grading contest held Wednesday morning.

Two Weed Control Schools Set Next Week for Jerome

JEROME, Feb. 16—Two all-day programs on weed control are planned for Monday and Tuesday in Jerome county. The meeting Monday will be held at the Jerome Orange hall and the meeting Tuesday will be at the Frontier Orange hall at Hazelton.

Both meetings will begin at 10 a.m. with a film, "Let's Look at Weeds." At 10:30 W. G. Priest, county agent, will discuss the importance and cost of weeds. Robert E. Higgins, extension agronomist at the University of Idaho, will speak on the basic principles of weed control.

At 2:30 p.m. Higgins will speak on "guide for chemical weed control." A question period will begin at 3:30.

Priest reminds farmers that "weeds are one of the leading causes of lowered yields and of decreased farm land values."

MORE BEANS PER WINDOW is one of the features of the new model 700 bean windrower, manufactured by the Innes company. The company says it will have the new machine on the market. Laboratory and field tests have been complete assuring the trouble free performance for the new model, officials claim.

New Machine Designed To Aid Bean Harvests

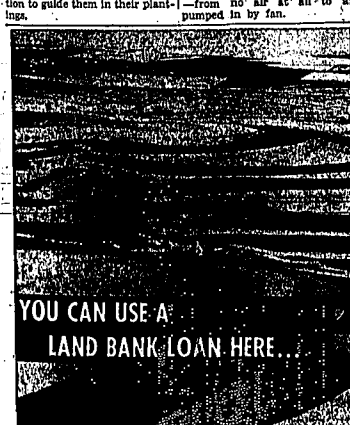

Innes company has added a new model bean windrower to its line of farm implements, the model 700. The "700" will allow the grower to windrow six rows of edible beans at once. The machine is designed especially for use in 24-inch-30-inch rows and has a built-in cross conveyor for center delivery. As many Idaho bean growers delay windrowing until shortly before combining, a six row windrower will speed the operation. Beans left in the windrower are easy prey for fall windstorms which may scatter the crop.

New Potato Storage Method Posing Battle Between 1962 and 1963 Crops

ABERDEEN, Feb. 16 (AP)—A new potato storage method could result in a late summer battle between the 1962 crop from Idaho and the 1963 crop from other states such as California. The battle would be staged on the nation's produce stands. There, the housewife would be confused with new potatoes from the summer-producing states—and a surprise appearance of fresh "bakers" from Idaho.

Blaine Sets Two Meets on Water

HAYLEY, Feb. 16—Two meetings of prime importance to ranchers in the Big and Little Wood river valleys will be held April 9 at Carey and at Hayley. Morley Nelson, Boise, state snow surveyor, is expected to attend and give predictions on the water outlook for the 1963 water season. One meeting will be held in the evening and one during the day April 9. Floyd Dorius, official for the Blaine food conservation district, which sponsors the meetings, said the water report will furnish farmers with vital information to guide them in their plantings.

1961 Farm Exports Show Boost, Hit Highest Mark

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—U.S. farm exports in calendar year 1961 totaled $3.3 billion dollars, the largest of record. The agriculture department said this huge outpouring of U.S. farm products to points abroad was 4 per cent larger than the previous record of $3.2 billion dollars in 1960. Dominating the rise in sales abroad last year was an unprecedented export movement of wheat. More than 74 million bushels of the breadgrain moved overseas.

Consumers Prefer Red Meat And Less Fat, School Hears

BURLEY, Feb. 16—Valuable information on meat production was presented at the beef school held in Burley last week. Glenn L. Boddy, Cassia county agent, presided. Panel members agreed that in the future, emphasis on the trend is for more red meat and less fat. Consumers particularly do not want waste fat around the outside of the animal. Otto Platter, end, Twin Falls, meat packer, led the panel discussion. Mrs. Margaret Wilcox, Boise, home economist, stated that according to a recent survey, people prefer to have their meat cut from the carcass at the store in front of them instead of packaged meat.

Final Papers Near in Sale Of T.F. Firm

Final papers in the sale of the Jesser Equipment company are expected to be signed early next week.

The firm is being purchased by Harold Koenig and his son, Arthur Koenig, from the Jesser family which has operated the company for many years. The Koenigs expect to devote their time to their farming interest. The Koenigs will change the name of the company to the A and H (for Arthur and Harold) Equipment company. They will leave the buildings from the Jesser family. The Koenigs have operated the Koenig Land and Livestock company near Hagerman.

Franchises involved in the sale are the Allis Chalmers agricultural machinery franchise for Twin Falls county, exclusive of Buhl; and the New Idea Farm for the same area.

In addition, the A and H Equipment company will have the Allis Chalmers light industrial franchise for such machines as backhoes, loaders, and small crawler tractors.

Arthur Koenig says the firm will continue dealing in used equipment.

The company will maintain a complete service and parts department with Don Watt as foreman. Harold Waggoner, who has been with the Jesser firm a number of years, will remain. Warren Robinson will be parts manager and Troy Dickard will be assistant manager.

Open house will be held March 2 and 3 by the A and H Equipment company. The event will feature display of a new heavy duty Allis Chalmers tractor, the model D15.

Calf Disease Area Survey Is Completed

KING HILL, Feb. 15—Dr. L. Dean Miller, assistant veterinarian at the University of Idaho, Moscow, has conducted a survey in the King Hill area among cattlemen in the King Hill area for diseases of calves.

The survey is part of a statewide survey being conducted in conjunction with a research project on calf disease. Purpose is to collect more information about the disease and it is hoped a vaccine can be developed. Dr. Miller says.

Calf scour has become a severe problem in some areas this year and although the exact cause is not known, several things appear to help the condition, he notes.

"In some herds the addition of Vitamin A appears helpful and some cattlemen have found that grading cows on pasture with their calves has reduced the incidence of the disease."

Other diseases, such as leptospirosis (typhoid) has been found in this area this year, the veterinarian stated. This disease causes abortions in cattle and vaccinating cows is the best protection, he added.

U.S. Investment In Commodities Climbs for 1961

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—The government investment in price-supported commodities totaled $7,585,046,000 as of Dec. 31. This was about 38 million dollars greater than the investment a month ago.

Wheat continued to be the top item in the investment. The government owned outright 1.13 billion bushels valued at 2.2 billion dollars and held loans totaling 494.5 million dollars on 276.6 million bushels.

Rural Development Discussion Set At Meeting Here Wednesday Night

Representatives of rural and urban organizations from throughout Twin Falls county will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the city hall auditorium to discuss the possible organization of a Twin Falls county rural-urban development committee.

County Agent Donald Youst said, "Invitations have been mailed to some 60 individuals representing farm organizations, major industries, commodity groups, chambers of commerce, USDA agencies, and individuals interested in the development of Twin Falls county."

"The purpose of the meeting is to determine if a county-wide approach to our problems would be of benefit, and to decide whether such a committee should be organized."

Rural area development was first tried in 58 pilot counties beginning in 1949 with the organizational help of county extension agents. The program is being presented now to several counties in Idaho, with organizational help of the county agents and cooperation of USDA agencies.

Rural area development is a process of bringing to focus the resources of many groups and agencies into one unified effort to improve the economy of an area. Existing state and federal agencies would cooperate in technical assistance in planning for the full use of resources.

Youst explains. The committee would search for ways to stimulate balanced economic growth, improvement of the economic well being of the citizens, the further development of local leadership and community facilities, and how to provide better opportunities for youth.

The program Wednesday evening will consist of some short presentations, followed by a discussion to decide whether a permanent committee should be organized. Youst will give a brief history of rural area development.

"The PHA loan program is an outstanding example of those USDA activities producing long-term returns in the U. S. treasury which nearly balance out initial cost," the local manager reports.

"The repayment record of six Minidoka families demonstrates their willingness to make sacrifices now in order to develop sound and efficient farms for the future."

The agency makes loans to young farmers, small farmers attempting to improve their operations, farmers whose equities have been wiped out by the loss of recent years, and those hard hit by natural disasters. Loans are made to both part-time and full-time farmers.

Harrison pointed out. This is a service most of these farmers were unable to obtain elsewhere, he said.

HAUSSEN, Feb. 15—Tommy B. Jones, son of Mrs. Frances V. Jones, Hausseen, is serving aboard the seaplane tender USS Curlew, which was on duty with the seventh fleet in the western Pacific.

HAUSSEN, Feb. 15—A new can plant is being installed at the Pet Milk company here, according to Emy Benson, plant manager.

The can-making line will serve as part of the regular operations of the company with production to begin on April 1, the official says. Production of cans which will be around 800 per minute will be limited to the full can size. The local company will still continue to receive small size cans from the Richmond, Utah, can manufacturing plant.

The can making plant has been consolidated into plant operations as an economical move by the company. No plant expansion is required since there is available space in the plant for the new operation. However, additional employees will be needed to carry out the project. Tin plates will be shipped to the plant.

STRAW IS SCATTERED around bedding area of corral by Ivan Garmand, route three, who has a herd of about 40 dairy cows. During recent wet weather, many area dairymen and cattlemen have been using more straw than usual for bedding.

In feedlots and corrals, Garmand has kept the straw confined to a loafing shed and is not using it out in the open. County Agent Donald Youtz notes that the straw supply is apparently adequate. (Staff photo-engraving)

Wet Weather Using up Straw Supply in Area

Recent flood conditions and high water have been causing their share of troubles in Twin Falls area dairy farm and cattle feed lots.

A brief survey of dairymen and cattlemen in the area indicates that they are using two, and in some cases three, times the normal amount of straw for bedding the cows and cattle.

Edgar Olmstead reports the Olmstead Cattle company has a supply of straw last fall which "we thought would last a year and a half." The same supply of straw now is almost gone.

Olmstead, who has about 1,600 cattle in feed lots, normally distributes fresh straw to the lots about twice a week — during good weather. The usual distribution varies from twice a week to every four days.

Straw now is scattered around the feed lots ever other day to assure the cattle have a dry bedding ground.

Marcel Fomeroy, Hansen, who feeds about 300 head of cattle, notes area cattlemen are "all pretty much in the same boat — this weather has taken more bedding." He, too, has been using considerably more than the normal amount of straw.

Most dairy and cattlemen in the area, although more straw is being used, there seems to be a supply available. However, one area cattlemen noted, "if the weather continues it won't hold up."

County Agent Donald Youtz indicated that the straw supply apparently is adequate.

Beef Show and Judging Planned Here March 13

A "fat and feeder" penit, show is scheduled for Tuesday, March 13, at the Twin Falls Breeder-Commissioner company with the cooperation of the county agent's office.

Purpose of the event is to provide all interested persons to compare the various classes and grades of animals at one place. Dairymen, feeders and packers can compare cattle and see what the feeder needs to have in his feed to produce the type of cattle he needs and must have, the commission company will out.

Judges, awards, time and other details will be announced later in the Times-News.

The show and judging are scheduled for Tuesday and those who wish may consign stock to the Wednesday sale the following day.

The show and judging will be divided into classes for fat calves, feeder yearlings and calves, with four divisions in each group. Divisions will not be shown in each other.

For fat cattle, divisions are steers, 15 head per pen, 1,075 pounds and up; steers, 15 head per pen, 1,075 pounds and down; steers, 15 head per pen, 900 pounds and up; heifers, 15 head per pen, 900 pounds and down.

Feeder yearlings will be shown in pens of 20 head in four divisions, steers, 750 pounds and up; steers, 750 pounds and down; steers, 150 pounds and up and 150 pounds and down.

Unit's Chief Makes Plea For License

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 16 (AP)—The president of the National Farmers union has proposed state or national licensing of farmers to keep banks, chain stores and other corporations out of agriculture.

James Patton, Denver, Colo., told the Wisconsin Farmers Union only family farmers should be in farming, and urged a strong national policy for preservation of the family farm.

He said a farmer couldn't go to town and hang out a shingle to practice law or medicine, and couldn't become a carpenter without joining a union.

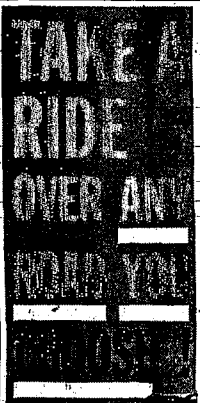

Patton also urged formation of a common market by the United States, Canada, Japan and other Pacific nations. He said this could be a first step toward formation of a world economic unity.

Teens United For 4-H Set Future Plans

JEROME, Feb. 16 — The Teens United with 4-H met at the courthouse to discuss plans for activities for the coming year. Karen Sheemaker read the constitution.

Members voted to schedule the meetings for the fourth Monday of each month while school is in session and as many as necessary during the summer. James Goemmer was elected vice-president.

It was decided that the members will write a plan for the club's work this year. Each officer is also to learn the duties of his office. Cindy Malone led the flag salute and Thera Burkhalter led the 4-H pledge.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 26 in the extension office of the courthouse. The Barrymore Wranglers met at Ricky Halsestad's home. Roll call was answered by each member telling what he wants to accomplish in 4-H during 1962. The record books and information about the projects were distributed. Charlie Hyder was elected to be scrap book chairman.

Judy Hall was elected president of the Las Caballitas 4-H club. Other officers include Shirley Sheppard, vice president, and treasurer; Dinah Shore, secretary; Andrea Larson, reporter; Shenna Prunty, song leader; and Paula Burkhalter, recreation leader.

Members discussed the classes for saddle classes and miscellaneous problems associated with their projects. The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m. on Thursday at Paula Burkhalter's home.

Oats and Rye Pricing Plan Is Revealed

Growers of oats and rye will be able to obtain price supports in 1962 without taking part in the 1962 feed grain program, announced Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

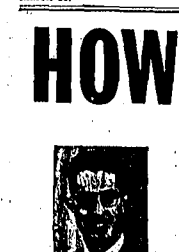

He said the program applies to corn grain sorghum, barley, he pointed out that this was a change from the 1961 program, when participants in the feed grain program for corn and grain sorghum was required in order to be eligible for 1961 support on oats and rye.

Boyd emphasized that corn, barley and grain sorghum producers will be eligible for price support on these three crops only if they participate in the 1962 feed grain program. He added that this requirement does not apply to producers of certain "acceptable" varieties of maturing barley.

Corn and grain sorghum producers will be eligible for price support on these crops if they reduce their corn and grain sorghum acreage by at least 50 percent and do not exceed the base acreage of barley. The base is figured on the 1959-60 average. He said that barley producers will be eligible for barley support if they reduce their barley acreage by the minimum 50 percent and do not exceed their base acreage or corn and grain sorghum.

Boyd explained also that there will be a limit on the amount of 1962-corn, grain sorghum, and barley that may be put under support from eligible farms. The eligible quantity will be an amount equal to the farm's 1959-60 average per acre yield times the corn, grain sorghum, or barley planted acreage as determined by the ASCS county committee.

Payments will be made to farmers who direct-corn, grain sorghum, and barley acres to be used conserving uses. In order to take part in the program farmers must file an application with their ASCS county office before March 30.

PLANS FOR FFA WEEK, which will be held Feb. 17-24, were made during an executive meeting of the South Magic Valley FFA district at the Twin Falls agricultural building. Presidents from each chapter in the district attended themselves. Seated from left are Charles Willard, Buhl; Larry Anna, district president; and Ray Poe, Twin Falls. Speaking Contest to Mark Start of National FFA Week Activities Here

A speaking contest Monday will mark the beginning of National FFA week Feb. 17-24, and several events scheduled for March, April and May were announced by Larry Anna, FFA district president of the South Magic Valley FFA district.

Many chapters throughout the district have begun preparation for FFA week, and some chapter members have placed window displays in homes and business offices in their respective towns.

The speaking contest will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in FFA hall, winner of each chapter in the district participating.

Participants are required to prepare a 10-minute speech on a topic of agriculture and to answer questions for a five-minute period. They are judged on manuscript, speech delivery and question response.

Winners will participate in the regional contest between the north and east Magic Valley districts at a later date.

The district banquet will be held at 5 p.m. March 12, in Buhl, and preceding the banquet will be a district meeting where chapter scrapbooks will be graded and a winner selected.

Standard and superior chapter awards may be submitted at the meeting and members will be asked to bring an application then.

Standard and superior awards are part of the national chapter award program set up by the national FFA organization and designed to give chapter recognition for service throughout the preceding year.

Buhl will host the state FFA convention March 29-31 and two chapters qualifying for superior awards will be selected to represent Idaho in national competition. Rigby FFA chapter received a gold rating and members of the Twin Falls chapter all have been set and local truckers have agreed to a hauling price. A good many potential shippers have been contacted by mail and those not contacted and interested in the feeding program are asked to contact the firm.

At the present time the company is also offering seed pea contracts to area farmers. It is preferred that peas be put on surface irrigated ground as opposed to sprinkling irrigation. Growers interested may contact the company and a seed pea representative will be sent to discuss the matter with the farmer.

Forage Tests To Be Theme Of Meet Here

Value of hay testing and plans for starting a hay testing program in Twin Falls county will be discussed during a forage meeting at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 23, in the county agricultural office, says County Agent Donald F. Youtz.

Youtz announced Thursday that Eugene Higgins, extension agronomist from the University of Idaho, will discuss hay testing at the meeting.

He notes that in many states, alfalfa hay is now being tested and sold on a nutrient basis as determined by chemical analysis. Youtz said that by testing, the feeder or dairyman knows what kind of product he is buying and the producer gets paid for the quality of hay he grows.

In addition to hay quality and testing, corn growing and other forage problems will be discussed. Cattlemen, dairymen, hay growers and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Big Klu Says He's Through—
Unless He Gets Right Offer

By United Press International
Ted Kluzewski, the mountain of muscle who has manhandled opposing pitching for 15 major league seasons, says he is ready to quit baseball—unless any of three clubs will take him on as a pinchhitter at a salary to which he has become accustomed.

Speaking on a television interview in Cincinnati Wednesday, Kluzewski quipped: "I'm an ex-ballplayer. I'm going to stay home and enjoy life."

Big Klu later qualified this remark by saying: "I would give a second thought to this for three teams if I got a good offer as a pinchhitter."

He did not identify the three teams, however.
Kluzewski, 37, was let go by the Los Angeles Angels at the close of last season. He batted .243, and hit 18 homers.
Those 18 homers brought his lifetime total to 270, most of them hit while he played for the Cincinnati Reds. Kluzewski has said he would like to hit 300 homers before he retires.

While Kluzewski appeared to be nearing the end of his career, one of his former Philadelphia Phillies teammates, outfielder Bob Skinner, told his boss he couldn't wait for the 1962 season to start.

In returning his signed contract for the next season, Skinner revealed that he has given up smoking, gone on a special diet that has added 20 pounds to his frame and he has worked out all winter in a gymnasium in San Diego, Calif.

"I feel the best I have in years," Skinner told general manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates by telephone. "I'm rarin' to go."

Skinner, troubled by an allergy for the last two seasons, hit only three homers and batted in only 12 runs in 1961 for his poorest major league campaign since 1950.

Skinner, incidentally, was the 40th and last Pirate player to reach a salary agreement.

Jim O'Toole, Cincinnati's 25-year-old left-handed pitcher who lost two world-series games to the New York Yankees, signed Wednesday at an estimated $24,000 salary. O'Toole had a 19-9 record last season, winning 11 of his last 12 decisions.

In games played Thursday afternoon, Kolo's Twin Falls, won a close one from the Fairfield Firemen 25 to 23. Linfield-Delta, Medford, Ore., outlasted Faux Clear store, Buhl, 53 to 43 in an overtime contest.

Tied 42 all at the end of the game, the Linfield Deltas scored 10 points in overtime, while the Buhl team only came up with one counter.

The Buhl Merchants took it on the chin when Sterling posted a 51 to 33 win.

In the Bliss-Mountain Home air force game, the Bliss players stuck close to the air force team until the final quarter. Mountain Home led by only two points at halftime.

Allen Osborne of the Troop 1, Gooding national guard team, gained signal recognition by being the first player to foul out of a game during the tournament.

High scoring honors went to Mohonro, who dunked 21 points in a losing effort for the Valley Nursing Home team, Twin Falls.

Games will start at 9 a.m. Friday when Kolo's, Twin Falls, meets American Falls. At 10 a.m. Buhl Merchants and Faux Clear store, Buhl, 11 a.m. Sterling and Linfield Deltas, Medford, Ore.

Friday afternoon: Sierra Life Insurance, Twin Falls, will meet the Valley Nursing Home at 1 p.m. and Glens Ferry will take on the Circle Bar team, Bliss, at 2 p.m.

Pirates Complete
Signing of Roster

By The Associated Press
The Pittsburgh Pirates expect to have a group of contented baseball players on hand when their regular 1961 squad reports to Fort Myers, Fla., for spring training in 10 days. All the Pirates have indicated they are satisfied with the contract terms offered them for the 1962 season, which they hope will hold better results for them than did the 1961 campaign.

Pittsburgh completed the signing of its roster when veteran outfielder Bob Skinner and rookie pitcher Larry Foss agreed to terms Wednesday. The Pirates became the second major league club to sign all its players, the Chicago Cubs being the first to do so.

The signings tapered off a bit Wednesday but nevertheless there were several noteworthy contract acceptances. Southpaw hurler Jim O'Toole, a 19-game winner last year, became the 25th member of the National League pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds to sign.

Other signings included outfielder Willie Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers; veteran pitcher Hal Brown and rookie outfielder John Powell of the Baltimore Orioles; pitcher Allen Brice and Russ Kemmerer, infielder Sam Expósito and outfielder Ken Berry of the Chicago White Sox; rookie pitcher Dennis Ribant and first-year catcher Bob Uecker, who brought the Milwaukee Braves' satisfied list

Foley Decks
DeJohn for
KO in Third

DENVER, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hard punching Zora Foley hammered Mike DeJohn to the canvas twice before decking him for good in 2:24 of the third round in his scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight Thursday night.

Foley, 194, Chandler, Ariz., completely outclassed his 206-pound opponent from Syracuse, N. Y., before a left-right combination put an end to the bout before 6,000 fans in Auditorium arena.

Foley, with devastating rights and lefts, battered DeJohn to the canvas twice in the early seconds of the third round. On both occasions DeJohn took the full nine count before resuming the fight.

On the final assault by Foley, it was another series of left and rights to the head and mid-section that sent DeJohn sprawling. He rolled over on a half count and then tumbled back to take the final count sitting on his haunches completely dazed.

Sanderson shot a five under par 67 to go with his opening 72 while Sheppard ran into a tremendously troublesome trap on the 15th hole, which he led the field after the first round.

This is Magic Valley's fourth year of intercollegiate competition and the second time a Panther squad has appeared in Twin Falls.

Ski Winners to Be Given Titles

BERN, Switzerland, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Council of the International Ski Federation—FIS—decided Thursday to award the winners of the World ski games in Chamonix world championship titles on a provisional basis.

That decision is to be ratified by an FIS Congress next September in Vienna.

FIS President Marc Hodler of Switzerland told newsmen the 13-man council decided to review its earlier decision on the issue. This was to cancel the world championships because the skiers from Communist East Germany were unable to take part.

SAULT LAKE CITY, Feb. 16 (AP)—Utah moved into a tie for the lead in the 1962-63 season after Thursday night with an easy 80-65 victory over outlasted New Mexico.

Billy (The Bull) McCall hit 45 points, exactly half the Utah team total, and padded his national scoring lead a fraction.

On the final assault by Foley, it was another series of left and rights to the head and mid-section that sent DeJohn sprawling. He rolled over on a half count and then tumbled back to take the final count sitting on his haunches completely dazed.

On the Cover

Much has been written about George Washington, and if teachers have their way it will continue so for years to come.

On our cover this week, Paty Newell, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Newell, Twin Falls, and David Toom, 17, son of Sam and Mrs. David P. Toom, Twin Falls, do research for essays on the nation's first President.

Certainly the atmosphere of the background at the Twin Falls public library helps, as the students learn more about "The Father of Our Country."

ANTIA EKBERG DEPLANER in the movie, "La Dolce Vita" in which she portrays a rather dumb Hollywood movie star. The picture, starring hundreds of actors and actresses, is now showing at the Orpheum theater. (Staff engraving)

World Stars Appearing in Italian Film

So much has been written and said about the controversial aspects of Federico Fellini's "La Dolce Vita" that the prominent players starred in the cast have been given nearly enough credit in print.

In the cast of eight hundred, "La Dolce Vita" has eight international stars playing key roles.

There's Marcello Mastroianni, who plays the newspaperman. An actor who never tried to be a star, he's now Italy's most sought-after leading man. His career reaches its zenith with his portrayal of the weak, vaguely conscience-stricken gossip writer who moves among the rich pleasure seekers and bogus intellectuals representing the decadent society disassembled in "La Dolce Vita."

There's that well known international beauty, Anita Ekberg. Fellini wanted one of those glamorous, traffic-stopping movie dolls who are forever flitting in and out of Rome with a pack of shoving, scrambling shutter-clickers at their heels. In Miss Ekberg, Fellini got the real, live article.

The rich woman is played by Anouk Aimée, remembered best by American audiences for her first performance in the British film, "The Golden Salamander." In "La Dolce Vita" she gives a shocking, bitter-sweet portrayal of an idle rich woman frantically searching for happiness in Rome's cafe society.

Another French actress, Yvonne Furneaux, has the important role of Emma, the volatile, possessive mistress of the journalist. Slim, dark and green-eyed, Yvonne is always included in lists of the 10 most beautiful actresses in Europe. She has a long list of film credits, including the role of Jennie in "Silent Movie."

CBS Network Moves Fast After Story

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—CBS moved fast after a sports columnist asserted that some of the shots shown on that network's Sunday afternoon "This Wonderful World of Golf" were not made by the contestants during the match, but by "ghost" players a day or so later.

The hour-long program showed top golfers competing on courses all over the world with Gene Sarazen as commentator, is not produced by the network, but by an outside package. When the allegation was made, CBS executives and the package went into a closed-door huddle.

Result is that next Sunday the program will start with an explanation that occasionally the producers have taken "dramatic license to illustrate a shot."

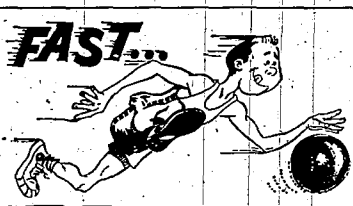

Shaken, Bill MacPhail, head of CBS sports department, explained that a few shots were added later to demonstrate better how champion golfers played a particularly interesting hole.

On My Own Time

BY BOB HARTLEY

"La Dolce Vita" opens in Twin Falls tonight, for a short run. Undoubtedly the movie will stir much discussion, pro and con. While the movie is admittedly rather frank in its portrayal of decadent life, it has been hailed as having a message of some importance. If this is true, it won't be the first foreign-made film to be worth seeing. Too often foreign films are prejudged on the basis of their origin only. This is unfortunate, for it has been recognized that some of the best movies made have been imported to the U.S. We recall seeing "Mr. Hulot's Holiday" several years ago. In our estimation it was a classic in humor; the pure humor that seems too often to be an afterthought in U.S. comedies. Another classic foreign film was "Les Amateurs," a lighter evening mystery. The realism was almost too much. The acting was superb, the directing exceptional. It was not a cheap film. Other outstanding films, too numerous to mention, have come from foreign capitals. While we wait to hear whether "La Dolce Vita" merits praise, we hope those contemplating going will not have their minds made up before it's shown. Don't refuse to go just because it's a "foreign film." Keep in mind that all great directors, actors and actresses are not Americans. Judge it on its merits, not behind its back.

Here's a sequel to our notice last week about the model in Los Angeles who handled her own court case and vividly disclosed her injuries. She won. That's right, the jury awarded her some $18,000 for damages. In her joy at winning, she grabbed the nearest human and kissed — it was the defense attorney.

Treats come our way, every so often, but the one coming April 26 is rare indeed. On that date the Boise Philharmonic orchestra will play a special program in Twin Falls with local youngsters participating. The Boise orchestra appearance should be a delight for music fans.

Here's one worth watching for. Judy Garland will lead a six-year-sabbatical from TV on Feb. 25 when she returns to "The Judy Garland Show" with guests Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin on the CBS television network. After her successful Carnegie Hall appearance and subsequent best-selling song album, this could be quite a show.

The guy who complains about being "eaten alive by repair bills" usually knows what he is talking about, particularly if it has to do with car care. Latest figures show that the average bill per trip to the shop last year was $21.67, or about $11.55 higher than a year previous. Expensive little necessities, aren't they?

Your March entertainment calendar should be pretty full. For the first five days of the month the Dilettante group will present "Kiss Me Kate" at the Elmer High school auditorium. On March 15 the outstanding pianist David Bar-Ilan will be featured in the final Community Concert association program and on March 24 an energetic group of high school students will bring the popular trio, the Lime-liters, to town for a one-night concert.

If you've got a few minutes next Wednesday and you want a few laughs... for a good cause... we invite you to a benefit basketball game at the junior high school gymnasium. Playing that fast and furious game will be some slow and cautious individuals representing (a) local merchants and (b) KEEP radio. A team of local merchants will play the KEEP radio over for the benefit of the Heart Fund. But don't chalk it up as a sad attempt at basketball. Some of the stars of not-so-long-ago will be suited up and ready to go. Merchants have requested only one concession — unlimited timeouts.

Television stations in Idaho Falls were up to date this week while floods harassed that area. One station was featuring "When the Rains Came" as a late show and another program held about drilling wells to break a drought.

You may miss some of your favorite TV programs come next fall and if there's something you want to do about it, now is the time to write. Among the older programs expected to vanish next year are "Lawman," "Adventures in Paradise," "Bonanza," "The Dick Van Dyke Show," "The Twilight Zone," "The Detectives" and "The Tall Man." Also you can expect to see some of the cartoons that didn't shake up to be given the gate. One reporter says about a third of TV prime evening time will be in for changes. Right now about 35 shows can expect the axe.

Everything is set for Johnny Carson to take over Jack Paar's show next fall and NBC-TV is gambling some $17,500,000 that Carson can do the job. You'll recall Carson has been around quite a bit, in various comedy roles and as a daytime quiz show man.

You know that saying about ignoring something and it will go away? Well, the Iowa Outdoor Advertising association is trying. One of their signs in that state says "There is no California. Stay in Iowa!" It's part of a scheme denying that California exists. The association says the campaign is a public service "to Iowa where life is real, vigorous and promising." The association expresses grave doubts about Florida.

For those of you who appreciate such facts, we notice that the lineup of top selling cars has changed somewhat in the last year. Probably the biggest change is that Plymouth, running third to Ford and Chevrolet last year in this time, is now in seventh place. Chevrolet has taken over as the Dodge, which was sixth a year ago, is now No. 5. Overall new car registrations are about 700,000 less than during the previous year.

Window Boxes Aid Looks of Home

If a window box filled with flowers will add to the appearance of your home, build one yourself. This is an excellent project to undertake before warm weather arrives. The box will then be ready when you want to set out plants.

Box Will Add Don't forget that a flower box will add to the appearance of a garage, too.

While patterns are available at most lumber yards for flower boxes, you can design your own easily. Any pattern you use would have to be adjusted for your window size anyway. Figure on making your box about eight inches deep, at least six inches wide at the bottom, wider at the top.

They Weather Well Remember to use wood that will weather well. Redwood and cypress are best; oak and pine are suitable if well finished. Treat wood to make it rot-proof.

For natural finishes, applications of boiled linseed oil, allowing it to soak in it for about four hours before wiping it off, will retain the look you want. Repeat the application a day later.

Reaction Caused By Vitamin A

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Prolonged overdoses of vitamin A for several months may cause loss of appetite and weight, irritability, hair loss and itching rashes in a young child, Dr. B. Joffe of New York reports.

Parents who overindulge with vitamins often will give a child six to eight dropperfuls of vitamin A instead of six to eight drops, the physician said in a report in "GP," a medical journal.

He said symptoms clear rapidly when overdosage stops.

You Can Be Attractive Patient With These Suggestions

Virus infections, breaks and sprains are, of course, the happy arrival of a new baby make it necessary for many of the fair sex to spend some time in the hospital.

But it takes more than a bout with a few germs to dim a girl's desire to look fresh and pretty. And if she's hospital bound because of a blessed event, she surely wants to look like a first-class mom and the family when they visit.

Here are a few pointers to help make you an attractive patient:

Easy on Cosmetics

Don't take too many cosmetics to the hospital. You need only the essentials. Face powder, cleansing cream and lipstick head the list — and be considerate enough to use the non-smear lipstick that won't come off on the linens.

Cool, Man

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP) — Two actors in Columbia's "The Minniners" on location in Spain found the 85-degree daily temperatures "cool."

Alex Guinness and Anthony Quayle had just finished "Lawrence of Arabia" in Jordan where the average temperatures were around 120 degrees. And they found Spain a relief.

Forgivable Loan Is Fringe Deal

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — The newest fringe benefit in academic circles: A forgivable loan. The Ford foundation is offering such loans up to $10,000 to qualified students in engineering who commit themselves to teaching careers.

After students complete their doctorates, the loans will be forgiven at a fixed rate—$1,000 or 20 per cent annually of the total owed. Loans up to $10,000 for graduate study — for every year of service on an American or Canadian engineering faculty.

Networks Stir New Controversy

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — CBS stirred up a hornet's nest with its "Biography of a Bookie Joint" earlier this season.

NBC caused some sharp controversy a couple of weeks back with its strongly editorial "White Paper" on the welfare policies of the New York city of Newburgh.

Now CBS will be getting into sensitive areas again — on Washington's birthday, too — with a "CBS Reports" program on the resurgence of the American conservatism, called "Thunder on the Right" which will include some material on the John Birch society, Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and Sen. Barry Goldwater.

FAT INTAKE CLIMBS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP) — Fat consumption in the United States last year reached a record high—most 150 pounds per person, the U. S. department of agriculture's economic research service reports.

GOOD NEWS

MAGEL TIRE COMPANY

If your skin is dry, you might prefer to take along body lotion to be used at bedtime time instead of alcohol. A lightly scented cologne is a must, too, not just so that you'll seem dainty to others, but for your own morale as well.

Don't take along a lot of eye make-up. You'll look fresher without it. All you need is a pencil for your brows, a good hand mirror or a make-up case that can be propped up at the bed is invaluable.

Shampoo Regularly

Your hair should be shampooed and set before your date of entry, and you might take along some dry shampoo for a quick cleaning if necessary. Long hair can be attractively braided.

so that it will always look neat.

Those flowers-by-wire girls can add beauty to more than just your room. Slip off a bod or two and pin them to your bodice or robe. Or you might prefer to clip them to your hair. Either way, they'll add a touch of charm and fragrance. Many girls will long for wired through Florida's Telegraph Delivery come with small corsages of the flowers in the arrangement. Bring with you two or three shortie nightgowns, a bedjacket and a long robe and slippers for when you're up and about. Pale blue and pink are most flattering. White can look too stark against a hospital background, and green and yellow can make all but the robust look pallid.

Don't strew your discarded possessions about the room when you leave. Remove everything that belongs to you so that you'll be remembered as being thoughtful as well as pretty.

Popular Limelitters Will Appear Here March 24

The Limelitters, RCA Victor recording trio, will present a concert of music March 24 at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium.

The group, which in two brief years has become known as the "Singing Men of the West," is being brought to Twin Falls for the one-night stand by the high school HI-Y club. Members of the group hope to donate any proceeds from the function to the YMCA-YWCA building fund, according to John Robinson, president.

The Limelitters are known for presenting unbacked material in fresh, modern arrangements. Each of their numbers on the two-hour program bears the hallmark of professional musicianship and sophisticated humor.

Members of the HI-Y are quick to point out that the Limelitters do not appeal only to teenagers, but have a wide appeal for all age groups. Louis Gottlieb, bass-playing spokesman for the group, has a Ph.D. in musicology, which partially explains the professional aplomb of his introductions. These explanations, a remark which fans from coast to coast have come to cherish as much as the music itself, are deadly accurate take-offs on academic stuffiness.

Alex Hasslev is an accomplished actor with the phlegmology usually required in those circles. The 27-year-old linguist speaks half a dozen languages fluently and sings in over 20 tongues and dialects. In addition, Hasslev is a recognized banjo and guitar virtuoso.

Glen Yarbrough, a vocal star in his own right before joining the Limelitters, plays the classical guitar and is the main solo singing voice of the trio. A lyric tenor of startling clarity and warmth of tone, Yarbrough approaches each song with an unaffected simplicity that wins immediate audience response. Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Music Box, Helen's Record shop and from members of the Twin Falls HI-Y club. The group hopes to have its ticket sale completed by March 1, Robinson states.

NBC Signs Actor; ABC Is Unhappy

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — NBC has signed an exclusive contract with Robert Horton.

That not only means that "Wagon Train," TV's top-rated show, will lose its top star, Horton, when it moves next season to ABC, but that NBC can use Horton as guest star in any show — probably "The Virginian" — which will compete for Wednesday night audiences with "Wagon Train."

ABC, obviously, is unhappy.

Television Notebook

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — Dina Merrill, who has been prominent in leading roles in several TV plays this season, is leaving her name from both fact and fiction. Dina is a shortening and rearranging of her own given name, Nedelia. The Merrill was just picked out of nowhere because she like the sound of it as a companion to Dina.

"Espionage" is a projected one-hour filmed series that will have hands-across-the-sea sponsorship. Plautus productions, the firm of Herbert Brodsky that turns out

"The Defenders" series for CBS, is allied with NBC International and Britain's Associated Television Limited and its American subsidiary in a co-financing and co-production deal for the new program. Plans call for episodes to be made in London. The pilot film will be started about April 1.

Michael Landon, the Little Joe of the Cartwright family on NBC's "Bonanza" series, has sold his first teleplay — "Bonanza." The title is "The Gambler," and it will show up on the program during the spring.

Mancini May Be in Line For "Oscar"

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP)—Henry Mancini looks more like a dry goods salesman than a hipster who revolutionized TV music and is now a hot contender for an Academy award.
The 37-year-old composer became famous overnight a few years ago when he created the "Peter Gunn" theme for television—and opened the door to a line of imitators of his dramatic jazz form. Now his haunting "Moon River" theme from the film "Breakfast at Tiffany's," written for Audrey Hepburn, is an Oscar favorite.
Both the "Peter Gunn" and "Moon River" records are big hits. And Mancini, a tall, sharp-tongued man with receding black hair, says nothing unusual in the wide difference between these compositions.
"I've done everything from Abbott and Costello movies to Orson Wells—and all the buses in between," he said at the Rhymer Derby restaurant here. "And believe me, without all these things in the past—including the Although he has won many jazz awards and has been nominated for Oscars and Emmys, Mancini, a native of Cleveland, does not think of his work as being arty—just a business.

"It's funny, that business about looking like a dry goods salesman. I did see some of those would-be salesmen in the store in Alliquippa, Pa., he said.

Cook until onion is limp. Remove from heat and stir in pineapple, bread crumbs, half the salt, pepper, and slightly beaten egg. Stuffing is very dry at this point.

Spread stuffing on top of the rack of spareribs and cover with the second rack. Fasten edges of meat together with toothpicks. Sprinkle surface with remaining salt. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. You Can Redo Shirt Off His Back

What to do with the "perfectly good" clothes that are no longer wearable has a-7

Some may have a more interesting future than that of the rummage sale table if you're willing to experiment with home dyes and simple sewing.

A good example is your husband's old shirt. If the collar and cuffs are frayed, he'll consider the shirt "old" even though the body fabric is in A-1 condition.

Well, the attraction point for kindergarten painting snobs is reached rather rapidly when you have only one child in kindergarten and she objects strongly to flapping around in her father's shirt.

The all-cotton shirts take to home dyeing like a whit, and colors are true and clear. Synthetic fibers are more difficult to home-dye and some, such as Dacron, may be impossible to dye satisfactorily at home. If your old shirts are the garden variety white cotton, you won't have any trouble getting the tint, light or dark, you want.

A man's shirt can be converted to a woman's apron, and a fancy one at that. The shirt may be dyed a bold, bright color. Remove the collar, neckband and sleeves.

Turn the shirt backward, and take in sides around arms to fit. Turn up the shirttails to make pockets in front, bind neck, armholes and pockets with fringe, bias tape or decorative binding.

You can go one step further and "print" a pattern on the fabric with concentrated dye mixtures. This pattern-printing technique can be used for many types of articles. For this, mix fabric dye in one or more different colors in a small pan using only one cup of water (very hot water).

Place shirt flat on the table and stuff with several layers of newspaper so dye will not soak through and reach the back of the shirt. Use a one-half-inch wide paint brush and paint on the free-hand pattern. Paint over pattern a second time to be sure the dye seeps into fabric. Let dry.

Home dyes and simple trims transform dad's old shirts. Cobblers' apron has abstract print done with concentrated fabric dye solution. Ruffle-trimmed "shortie" nightie is for daughter.

One way to protect yourself from the pesky viruses, health educators say, is to wash your hands with soap before eating or handling food. Also: Never borrow or lend towels or other toilet articles and don't share drinking glasses or other utensils.

News About Stamps

The United States has joined the scores of other nations in the anti-malaria stamp program sponsored by the United Nations.

The U. S. four-cent Malaria eradication commemorative is scheduled for issuance on March 30 at Washington, D.C.

The new stamp will feature the great seal of the United States of America to the left, and the symbol of the world health organization to the right. Across the top of the stamp will be the lettering "World United Against Malaria."

This country, over a three-year period (1958-1960), has contributed more than 140 million dollars to the world-wide malaria eradication program, primarily through the U.S. bilateral program.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations of the four-cent Malaria Eradication commemorative stamp may send addresses of envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the postmaster, Washington 13, D.C.

The outside envelope to the postmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Covers Malaria Stamp."

The orders for first day covers must be postmarked not later than March 28, 1962.

Author Takes Perspective View of Russ Communism

The Taproot of Soviet Society, by Nicholas P. Vakar (Harper): A long perspective view of Soviet communism, which Vakar traces from its Marxist beginnings in peasant village society through its evolution as Bolshevism, Stalinism and now Khrushchevism.

He emphasizes that past developments have been based on the overwhelmingly peasant character of the Russian people and their leaders. As Russia becomes more and more industrialized and a middle class intelligentsia becomes more numerous, a typically Russian culture is asserting itself which in turn is moving the state still further from Lenin and Stalin's ideas.

Vakar, a Russian native and now Professor of Russian Civilization at Wheaton College, Mass., sees hope for the future in this maturing of Soviet society.

The Light of Other Days, by Rexford G. Tugwell (Knopf): Tugwell recalls early influences which helped transform him from a country boy in conservative upstate New York into a pioneer Brain Trustee in Washington. From the emigration of 70 years, Tugwell looks back, nostalgically on a way of life that no longer exists and (mostly) regrets its passing.

Although never precisely a farm boy (his father was first a stock buyer and later a prosperous farmer), Tugwell grew up in rural surroundings. Only as a young man did he move to Buffalo and really encounter the big city. Technological forces were at work during those years at the turn of the century.

The Tugwells' very ancestral reasons, were Democrats in a largely Republican world. Young Rexford, dismayed by a boyhood visit to the Pittsburgh steel mills and by what he saw of the Sicilian seasonal workers in his father's cannery, was to become a moderate socialist.

Edie Adams, who studies at New York's famed Julliard School of Music for an operatic career and wound up as Daisy Mae in the Broadway musical, "Li'l Abner," gets her first big movie role opposite Rock Hudson in "Love Come Back" with Doris Day and Tony Randall.

Having proved her acting ability with a standout bit in the Billy Wilder film, "The Apartment," Miss Adams expects to be dividing her time from now on between Hollywood cameras, Manhattan footlights and television stages; a not unexpected turn of events for a young lady who, as a child, entered every amateur contest she heard about — and won most of them.

Born in Kingston, Pa., Miss Adams moved with her family to Grove City, Pa., when she was 6 years old, then to New York where she continued her secondary education, with 6,000 other female students at the Julia Richman high school and completed it in Tenafly, N. J., to which her folks made a final move.

Setting her sights on opera, Edie attended Julliard and the Columbia University School of Dramatic Arts. In 1949, after four years in the longhair department, opera seemed a long way off and the volatile Miss Adams grew tired of the music. Still susceptible to contests she entered and won three for Miss New York Television and Miss United States Television.

She made numerous appearances in bathing suits all over the country. But while they were thrilling the male population of the U. S., they weren't doing anything for her musically.

Edie got her first break singing with a combo in a Toronto, Canada, nightclub. She only knew three popular songs so she made up for it by buying a $1,000 wardrobe, using her father's charge accounts.

The financial shock almost drove Adams to distraction. But Edie has made it up to him since then: Variety, the show business trade paper, reviewed her Toronto efforts. "They didn't say a word about my singing," says Edie, "just my gowns. But anyway, I got my name in type."
